SHOT BY A POLICEMAN.

Pablo Martinez Fatally Wounded by Antonio Ortega Last Night—Self-Defense Claimed—Ortega Under Arrest.

Last night about 10 o'clock, Pablo Martinez, living on upper Palace avenue, was shot and mortally wounded by a policeman named Antonio Ortega. The affair was brought about in this wise:

Pablo Martinez was drunk and raising particular Cain, beating his wife and scolding the wife out of the neighbors. A boy was sent down town, post haste for help, and two policemen, Antonio Ortega and Charles Wheeler went to the house, Ortega arriving on the scene of trouble a little in advance of Wheeler. When near the door Martinez rushed out at Ortega, who pulled a revolver and fired, the ball entering Martinez' left side and passing out at the back near the backbone.

Ortega was arrested a few moments after the shooting by Deputy Sheriff Huber and lodged in jail, where he was seen this morning by a New Mexico reporter and asked how the shooting occurred. His story, as interpreted by Mrs. Huber, is substantially as follows: "Last night a boy came to me and said that Pablo Martinez was whipping his wife; for me to come and help. I went to the house, when Martinez ran out of the door, striking at me with a knife in his hand. I could not see how big the knife was, but he had a knife. I pulled my pistol and shot, and Martinez fell down. The woman (Mrs. Martinez) went to him quick and took the knife away, so that when I got to him he had no knife, no nothing. That is all."

The story of the shooting told by Mrs. Martinez differs from that told by Ortega, in that she declares Martinez had no knife for the reason that she had everyone in the house locked up. Earlier in the evening he had gotten hold of a pair of scissors, but they had been taken away before the police arrived.

Immediately after the shooting Dr. Harroun was called to care for the wounded man. After making an examination of the wound, he pronounced it dangerous in the extreme and the hopes of Martinez' recovery are entertained.

CANO CAPTURED.

Escaped Prisoner, Charged with Various Crimes, On His Way Back.

Deputy Sheriff Huber received the following dispatch this morning:

"El Paso, Tex., Sept. 14.—Will be home with Cano tomorrow night."—H. C. KINSELL.

Esequiel Cano served two terms in the territorial penitentiary for burglary, being released at the expiration of the second term on July 24. On the following day, in the evening, he robbed the residence of Robert Wagner and set fire to the house in order to cover up the crime. On July 31 he entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood, on the south side and stole a quantity of jewelry and a considerable sum of money. The jewelry secured in the raids upon these two homes was hidden by Cano in a hole near the Santa Fe depot.

On the same evening of the robbery of the Wood's home Lola Gallegos de Warn, an inoffensive and industrious Indian woman, was murdered near the depot in a brutal manner. A chain of evidence was secured fastening the crime upon Cano, and he was confined in the county jail under the charge of burglary, but the real object of the officers in holding him was to bring him to trial for the crime of murder. On August 29, with the aid of an insane man in the jail, Cano succeeded in escaping, and so successful was he in covering up his trail that even the bloodhounds from the penitentiary failed to scent it. Sheriff Kinsell and Deputy Huber have not rested one moment since the escape, and their efforts to recapture the man have been rewarded by catching him in El Paso, when Cano is landed in jail again there will be no chance for him to see freedom until he is released by the courts, if that should be the result of his trial.

Rumors of an Important Change.

Reports are renewed with more force than ever that the Santa Fe Company is seriously thinking of building that much talked of cut off which would send their through trains over the Panhandle branch in Texas and thence on to the present main line in New Mexico by the new route. This, it is said, would save 200 miles of travel and avoid the Raton and Glorieta ranges.
